Supply@ME Capital plc

(The "Company" or "SYME")

Update on Restoration of Listing and re-commencement of Trading

Following the publication of Audited Accounts for the period ended 31 December 2019 and Interim Results for the six months ended 30 June 2020 last Thursday 28 January and Friday, 29 January 2021 respectively, SYME has successfully addressed the technical DTR breach regarding the timing of financial statements.

Immediately following publication, SYME made a formal request to the FCA for the lifting of the temporary suspension of its Listing and the resumption of dealings in the Company's Ordinary shares. The FCA is currently performing the regulatory steps required for the restoration of the Listing and re-commencement of dealings. The process has taken longer and is more complex than normal due to the change in accounting reference date, RTO transaction occurring during the period, and multiple financial statements that have been issued.

The Company also confirms that no FCA investigation is underway.

SYME expects to make a further announcement regarding the lifting of the temporary suspension and resumption of dealings in the Company's shares as soon as possible.
